Dear Martin,

Welcome to the American Society of Agricultural and Biological Engineers (ASABE)! Since 1907, we have supported engineers advancing agricultural, biological and food systems. We are pleased to work on behalf of both biological and agricultural engineers, and those who work with them to provide news, professional development, networking and resources that augment your professional experience. Your membership shows your commitment to a better stronger voice for the profession.

Your membership provides access to a multitude of benefits and opportunities to get involved with the community. The benefits of ASABE membership are not just from accessing resources, but from connecting with your peers. Become active in your local section or join one or more committees related to your personal technical interest areas.

To access resources like the technical expertise database, eForums or the ASABE Online Technical Library, simply enter your login (M1061840) and password at www.ASABE.org.

We are here to serve you. Please do not hesitate to contact the ASABE membership department (Tina Schultz, Jessica Pastrick, Sarah Cook, or myself) with any questions you may have. We may be reached at either (800) 371-2723 or (269) 429-0300.

Again, welcome to ASABE!

Sincerely,

Darrin J. Drollinger
Executive Director
